The Conflict in Virginia,

The advance of General STONE's column or Monday, across the Upper Potomac at Edward's Forry, and the expected occupation of Fairfax by our troops yesterday, would seem to indicate that the object of General McCLELLAN's movemert is to obtain possession of Centreville, and from the surrounding heights shell the rebels and force them to retire on Manassas. The occupation of Leesburg cannot be muc delayed by the temporary check day before sesterday, and when Leesburg is occupied the po ed that the confederates will patiently suffer themselves to be caught in a trap, a battle may at any moment be precipitated, though it may not take place for several weeks. The conflicts which have taken place go far, are but the preludes to a more decisive and bloody battle-the greatest that has ever Leen fought on this continent. Gen. McCLEL LAN is moving cautiously and energetically, All the divisions of the army are complete in themselves for attack or defence, but support each other, and can readily be concentrated. The army, it will be seen, advances along its former basis of operations, re-organized and with full confidence in their General, who has the experience of the past to guide him. In the coming battle may God defend the right.

THE tremendous efforts of the French and English press to write up a recognition of the Southern Confederacy, reported in formidable array in our foreign news this morning, may lead te, or may possibly indicate, a govern-mental conclusion of the sort—but we do not believe it.

The want of cotton is the only argument that can move those governments in that direction :] but if a recognition of our mutineer would give England and France cotton, or have any tendency to such a result, no doubt the infamy of the step would be embraced without hesitation. So long, however, as it is perfectly apparent to the most benighted of European speculators on American affairs, that the only tendency of a recognition would be to intensify and protract the conflict, and postpone still farther the release of the imprisoned cotton crop. we think there can be little prospect of that gratuitous indignity being offered us.

patches to Secretary SEWARD from Mr. HAR-VEY, our minister to Portugal, conveying the Information that the Cortez have decided to admit all foreign cereals to their ports upon the payment of the same duties as are charged on home cereals, when dispatched for consumption.

Mr. HARVRY gives as a reason for this con cession on the part of Portugal that private letters from well informed sources speak with great positiveness of shortness of cereal crops in England, France, Belgium, Holland, Spain and Italy, and late advices from Portugal show that she will suffer cerrespondingly, and perhaps, in even a larger ratio than the others,

THE death of Colonel EDWARD D. BAKER, United States Senator from Oregon, who fell on Monday last at the head of his regiment, which formed the advance of General Srong's division at Edwards Forry, has caused an universal feeling of regret amongst all classes of our citizens. Col. Baker's Death la Pennsylvania.

Harrisburg, Oct, 22.—A general order was issued immediately upon the receipt of the intelligence of the death of Col. Baker, which contains the following: 'It is with great pain that the Governor-Commander in-chief—has learned of the death of Col. Baker upon the field of battle. Although not a citizen of Pennsylvania, he bad been selected by many of her sons as their commander, and met his death while gallantly leading them into action. The same feeling which inspired his soldiers to regard zo state lings when our common country was in danger, induced the commander-in-chief to recognize him while living as a Pennsylvanian soldier, and impels him, now that he is dead, to bear this public testimony to his gallantry and worth.

Particulars of the Fight at Edward's Ferry. Philadelphia, Oct. 22.—The Washington Star

of this evening publishes the following additional facts of the affair at Edward's Ferry: -The Star tays it is a mistake to suppose that General Stone was repulsed. He was emisently successful, having effected his object, although at some loss to his right wing.

General Banks is in person on the Virginia side, and has assumed chief command, Colonel Cosswell, commanding the New York Tammany Regiment, is among the missing. He was formerly captain in the 8th regular infac-

Lieut, Colonel Ward, of the Massachusetts Lieut. Colonel Ward, of the Massachusetts 15th, was wounded in the leg Gen. Baker's command consisted of portions of the three regiments, viz: the California Eegiment, the Massachusetts 15th, and the New York Taminany, in all about 1 800 men. Gereral McCall's division remains in about or some days past from wheuce he may operate ffectively in any direction. Its presence higher ep the river to support an important movement of Generals Stone and Banks, has not been necessary, as the result proves. HOW COL. BAKER DIED.

The Star's description of the fight says both wings were attacked as early as nine A. M., but the enemy repulsed whenever he appeared. At about five P. M., the right wing found itself confront d by rear 4,000 of the enemy, under General Evans, with artillery. General Baker gallantly essayed the charge in which he was killed. The officer left in command immediately ordered the men back near the river back, where they could be supported by General Stare. diately ordered the men back near the river back, where they could be supported by Genera' Stone and the portions of the army that had time effected a crossing. The men obeyed in good order, carrying off all the dead and wounded. On reaching the position selected, the right wing turned, though under fire of the enemy, which gradually slackened until midnight.

GEN. BANKS' DIVISION TO CROSS Throughout the night the balance of Gen stone stores crossed the river and threw up temporary works that render his position se-cure, and enabled him to protect the crossing of the division of Gen. Banks, to be essayed this

The object of Gen. Stone's movement was to The object of Gen. Stone's movement was to enable his command, with Gen. Banks' divis-ion, to be safely transferred to Virginia. Evans attacked Col. Baker in front and on both flanks, attacked Col. Baker in front and on both flanks, Col. Ooggawell was probably taken prisoner. Our information so far this forenoon, is thut Gen. Banks' army duly arrived at Maryland Landings, Edwards Ferry, last night, and has been crossing the river securely since day light. THE KILLED AND WOUNDED.

Philadelphia, Oct. 22 .- Information received tere by private letters, estimate the loss killed and wounded at 175.

Great anxiety is manif-sted for the list of killed and wounded, as the California regi-ment, which probably suffered most, is composed of Philadelphisns.

GEN. SICKLES PREPARING. The main portion of Sickles' Brigade is not opposite the Confederate batteries, and are strongly entrenching themselves, and it is said are preparing to act on the offensive against the batteries.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Fo far as can be ascer-tained, there has been no renewal of the fight at Edward's Eerry. The indications plainly are that the military authorities are redulously en-raged in strengthening our forces at that point. The information received thus far is presumed to be of such a character as not to entitle it to credence in all particulars.

FALL OF A ROOF IN FURMAN STREET-ONE LAD KILLED AND SEVERAL OTHERS INJURED. -Yesterday afternoon, about 1 o'clock, the roof —Yesterday afternoon, about 1 o'clock, the roof of a stable, formerly in the occupancy of the Messrs. Tapacott, in Furman street, opposite Vine street, fell down, causing the almost instant death of a boy named James Ledy. Several others were more or less seriously injured. The stable is of brick, with a tin roof. The property is in litigation and it has consequently not been used for some time. No one appeared to have charge of it, and it went to rule. The proper prople of the mainth-borhood. appeared to have charge of it, and it went to ruin. The poor people of the neighborhood managed to tear off and carry away all the wood work in the building, and at last so weakened the supports of the ro:f that it came down with a crash, burying the unfortunate boys underneath. The names of those injured are: Benry Prichard, who sustained a fracture of the leg; Edward McLaughlin, who was severely cut in the head, and a woman named Duffy, who was badly bruised about the head and body. The parties were extricated and conveyed to their homes. The body of the boy Leddy was taken to bis father's residence, in Doughty street. Coroner Horton will investiate the circumstances.

ARRAIGNMENTS IN THE COURT OF SESSIONS. The Court of Sessions met yesterday morning, but beyond the arraignment of a few prisoners nothing was done. Sarsh Fernandez was brought up on the charge of grand larceny. She had been in jail for some time. The night pre-vious she resolved to commit suicide, and so, converting her shawl into a reps, suspended terrelf thereby. When discovered she was nearly dead, but recovered sufficiently under the care of Lr. Yan Zandt to be enabled to appear in court. She pleaded rot gui ty.
